

The Gift of One Man To an Entire Community

Helena is one of the few, if not the only, community in the country to offer an annual concert series that is free to the public. Our thanks go to Samuel Drake (S.D.) Warfield, 1900-1967, who lived in Helena all his life and through his estate left this amazing gift.

When S.D. was still a young man, he decided to make provisions for his two most important interests, his friends and his music. At his death, his family's farmland in Phillips and Lee counties was sold and the proceeds placed in trust for the performances we enjoy today.

Through Warfield's generosity and in his honor, we proudly present this year's festival. We invite everyone to come enjoy the performances of musicians, dancers and entertainers, compliments of Mr. S.D Warfield and our sponsors. Funds from our Warfield patrons and the corporate, business, and foundation contributors greatly enhance these concerts.
