

Workday: What's In It For HR Professionals?

Workday is bringing productive and positive changes for HR Professionals throughout the UA System! As an HR Professional, how will you benefit from using Workday?

With Workday, HR Professionals will benefit from:

All tasks, to dos, and approvals being sent to your Workday Inbox for easy tracking and completion

Electronic storage of employee personnel data

Employees having the ability to make their own changes to personal information, benefits, payment elections, and more

Up-to-date reports and dashboards that provide easy-to-access insight into recruiting processes, benefit enrollments, workforce planning, and more

Workday will alleviate pain-points so that HR Professionals:

Do not have to wait for new hires to fill out paperwork on their first day of work

Will not have to translate information from paper forms into a system, thus reducing the probability of incorrect data entry

No longer need to manually track job postings and candidate materials in multiple systems

Will not need to rely on someone else to obtain current and updated reports
